

STAR GUARD OPERATIONAL BULLETIN

CYCLE 1603.088

- ⊕ Deputy Leader Psi Girl coordinating mission assignments. Location: Star Guard Headquarters.
- ⊕ Singularity is with Team 1, currently at the Fleet base at Spartak. Communication is sporadic, but we expect Team 1 will begin their return journey within a few days.
- ⊕ You are reminded that the formal wedding between the Meg and Princess M’Krell will take place on 1603.128, forty standard days from now. Wedding preparations are as follows.
- ⊕ The wedding will take place at the Meg’s summer palace on Parkworld. Security duties will be divided between Fleet and Star Guard. Exact security assignments will be sent out soon.
- ⊕ The Meg has requested that all Star Guard attend this important state occasion. All teams are directed to finish their current missions and return to Bolusca as soon as possible.
- ⊕ Yes, I know, but we can’t argue with the Meg.
- ⊕ I have torn up Eniac’s wedding seating plan, which was too logical, and prepared a much better one (attached). Please see me if you have any issues. My door is always open.
- ⊕ The wedding will also mark the formal start of the binding treaty of cooperation between The Emissariate of Bolusca and the Kingdom of High Illona. The Krai embassy has protested this treaty using almost their strongest diplomatic language (they haven’t yet killed anyone).
- ⊕ There follows some general notes on outstanding threats.
- ⊕ Eniac is still under the influence of his evil personality. We have confirmed that he’s in possession of the MechSmith’s vessel, the Automata. This has evaded all attempts at detection. Eniac also possesses a set of portable Omniatic machines. Omniatic detectors developed by Jag and Siren will be issued to all teams in the field as standard.

- ⊕ Coryos the Conqueror is still at large and appears to be using his ability to move between dimensions to both hide and strike in unpredictable places. He is gathering a group of super-powered underlings, so far including Kobra, Squaax Dek, and Shape Master.
- ⊕ The Blue Boluscans who call themselves Children of Meg-Ron are still at large. We don't have any intelligence on their activities. It seems very likely they are working with Eniac.
- ⊕ We have confirmed intelligence that Kreed of the Krai Kwartet possesses a hyperspace drive that is an order of magnitude above anything currently known to science. There is no evidence that this is in general Krai use, but should it become so it will pose a greater strategic threat than any we have faced before.
- ⊕ Martial has intelligence that there is an increased Plunderer mobilization, though this hasn't yet evolved into an active threat. We don't know the ultimate intent, but it's possibly to take advantage of security forces being distracted by the wedding. Martial has formed Covert Team 2 to investigate.
- ⊕ There's a significant problem with starship technology being smuggled across the High Illonan border and finding its way into the hands of criminals. Jag is currently assigned to intelligence gathering on this operation.
- ⊕ Finally, it is my pleasure to welcome Immaterialia back to full active duty. There will be a party at Headquarters this evening. I am baking cookies.

END